Online and in print – Bournefree is soaring

ONLINE and social media have both been at the forefront of our thinking as we go into 2024.

By Peter Lindsey

The printed edition will always be at the core of the business but of course more and more of us rely on online material.

This month we were joined by journalism student, Molly Graff, who not only provided some excellent articles, but has provided social media videos for Bournefree supporters. We will be continuing this service, so please contact us for more details.

Two recent ones were with Bobby Beevis from ESK and Josh, the postmaster at Rodmill Post Office who has sadly left.

Both received thousands of views and helped us to more than 253,000 views in the past 28 days. It's something we are looking to grow in future months.

The February edition can be a challenging month as it's the start of a new year and for many businesses this can be a quiet time after Christmas.

So we have been very encouraged by the strong level of interest shown in the first four weeks, and we have a strong 56-page edition.

That has been helped by a special feature on Food & Drink this month – with advertisers ranging from The Grand and The View to St Wilfrid's Hospice highly rated café.

Next month, our special feature will be on Women in Business to tie in with International Women's Day in March.

Talking of ESK, it was great to pay a visit and see the amazing work young Bobby Beevis has been doing down there.

ESK is an institution in Eastbourne – and the legendary Bob Beevis was at the helm for so many years.

He's now stepped aside and son Bobby has taken over – and what a great job he's done. Soon, it will have one of the biggest garden centres in the southeast. And so much more...

Care homes seem to be popping up locally more than ever, none more so that Willingdon Park Manor off Kings Drive.

Many of us know the manager – Ian Cole – from his days working at The Chaseley Trust. Now he can't wait for the home to open, it should be the end of March.

And very posh it is too!

That's it for now, wishing everyone a successful and happy February.

Soccer ref's marathon runs

STUART McKenzie is 40 and lives on Seaside with his partner Julia.

By Peter Lindsey

He's a football referee and a support worker helping rough sleepers across East Sussex.

Now he's about to embark on a new challenge of his own – running a half marathon or more for every month of 2024.

He will be raising funds for St Wilfrid's Hospice.

Run Wednesdays

Stuart said: "I joined Run Wednesdays in 2021 thanks to countless members of the club, including founder Danny Garbett and then Captain Jonni Andrews (the doc), who inspired me to continue running and push me from being a non runner into someone now dedicated to it.

"I could barely run around Whitley Rec before the pandemic so afterwards I completed the couch to 5k and then last year I started running some races just for fun, including the Eastbourne Half, New Forest Half, Bognor 10k and Bates Green Gallop.

"So this year – because of the great work St Wilfrid's does for people leaving this world – I want to try and raise more money for the hospice.

"I have already done one half marathon slowly with two of my running friends from Run Wednesday, Jonathan Andrews and Joanna Cain, from Lewes Train Station to Willingdon at the bottom of Butts Brow."

Run Wednesday is an inclusive running club that supports people to run at their own pace. They organise a weekly timetable of running sessions to help with training, including The Canter and The Jolly, which are two different groups and free of charge, two fitness sessions on Tuesday and Friday plus a whole host of other running sessions. They can be found on Facebook if you want to find a new you.

Here is Stuart's timetable:

- February – 11th Headcorn.
- March – 3rd Eastbourne, 24th Hastings and 31st Running for some of the club from Hastings Pier to Eastbourne Pier to support a club member running the London Marathon.
- April – 7th London Landmarks.
- May – 5th Birmingham Half.
- June – tbc but possible Sandringham.

- July – Bewl 15 Miles (so longer than a half).
- August – Frome.
- September – Bates Green Gallop, as many laps of a 3.5 mile in 6 hours and also in the ballot for the Great North Run.
- October – in the Ballot for Royal Parks and Beachy Head Marathon.
- November – Eastbourne Pier to Hastings Pier.
- December – Malaga Half Marathon.

Stuart has to pass an annual fitness test for the level of football he now referees, and he will fit in his runs around his football.

Gig Buddies

He's also a volunteer for Gig Buddies, supporting people with learning disabilities to go to gigs including the Love Supreme festival.

Stu said: "I feel that I have come a long way in a relatively short period of time.

Determination and real focus

"I really wasn't fit but now – with determination and real focus – I can complete Half Marathons and hopefully Marathons too.

"Running is very good for one's mental health, and it has become an important part of my life.

"It's also vey rewarding to know that every penny I raise will go to the wonderful St Wilfrid's Hospice."

ESK to expand under Bobby

IT'S back – it's bigger than ever before and it's set to expand further.

By Peter Lindsey

That's ESK Superstore in Courtlands Road, Eastbourne, which is booming under new boss Bobby Beevis.

Dad Bob ran ESK for many years in both Eastbourne and Hastings. Now he has handed over the reins to son Bobby, who is loving it.

Bobby said: "Here at ESK Eastbourne, we are offering more than we have ever offered before.

Great value prices

"Our priority remains the same as ever – we offer the very best at great value prices – but we have more to offer as well than previously."

First, there is a play area inside ESK. It is free to paying customers of the cafe. Under 5s only, open every day.

Bobby Beevis.

Next is the cafe itself, Skinners, which serves up the very best food and drink.

Slim Butchers is another great attraction with some great offers. Many will remember Dave from his days at Langney Shopping Centre.

There's a huge expansion of the garden centre – and Bobby proudly boasts it will be 'the largest discounted garden centre on the south coast.'

Space for businesses

Bobby is also keen for other businesses to take space inside ESK. Active Days Mobility Services already has, offering new, second hand mobility scooters, wheelchairs and a range of walking aids. They offer repairs on existing products as well.

There is also a great range of furniture – all at great value – plus DIY, household goods, stationery, the pet shops, car wash and so, so much more.

Huge funding boost for East Sussex College

EAST Sussex College is celebrating after a huge funding boost.

By Peter Lindsey

A consortium of Sussex colleges is to receive £4.5million funding, as part of the Department for Education's 'Levelling Up' programme.

East Sussex College has been awarded funding for two projects.

The first will see the college develop and launch a Sussex Centre for Vocational Leadership and Entrepreneurship in the Health and Care sector. The programmes launched will help reduce environmental impact, enhance sustainability, and contribute to the broader goal of net zero emissions within the healthcare sector.

It will also support programmes for aspiring managers and business owners in the engineering and manufacturing sectors, with a key focus on utilities training and the switch to emerging hydrogen technologies.

Both strands echo the College's commitment to green training, as vital for the UK's innovation development, and the ESC programme is designed to address these needs and unlock the potential for advancement.

Rebecca Conroy, Principal and CEO of East Sussex College, said: "We are delighted by the innovations these technologies will bring to our students and those in our communities. By working with employers in our region, we are confident that the investments will benefit those in work and education and provide essential skills training while addressing critical skills gaps."

"We understand the important role we play in helping shape the workforce of tomorrow, preparing every student with the latest skills and knowledge required to positively enter the world of work and contribute to our local industries."

Help Raystede by fostering an animal

ANIMAL welfare charity, Raystede, is urgently appealing for more foster carers to join the charity's Break Away scheme.

By Molly Graff

Caring for over 400 animals every day, the charity's aim is to give animals a better life through rehoming, rehabilitation and sanctuary.

The charity's break away scheme is designated to helping owners fleeing domestic abuse or facing short-term hospitalisation and need temporary care for their animals.

Miriam Dowding, Rehoming Manager at Raystede said: "Often people experiencing domestic violence won't want to leave until they know their animal is safe. Our Break Away scheme will perfectly match each animal to an appropriate carer, but our ability to help depends on having foster carers available."

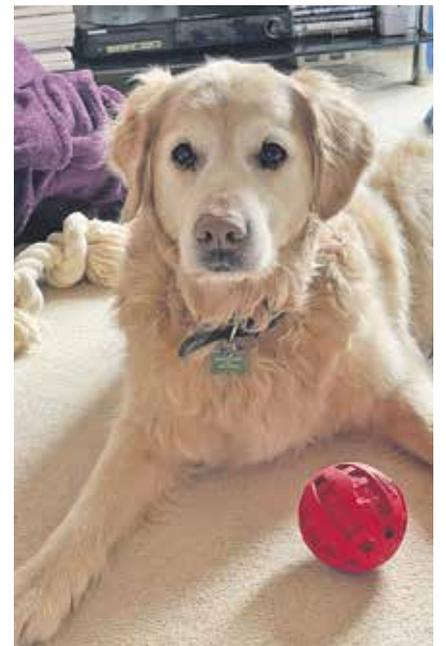

Alongside this, the charity offers learning days on how to correctly look after your animals, free will writing, guided tour for visitor with free entry. We do ask that visitors book a free ticket online.

With 43 acres of land, Raystede care for an array of animals including cats, horses, dogs, rabbits, hens and exotic birds. Sadly, many of the animals have been neglected, abused or exploited and some will be at Raystede for life. The animals that are available for adoption, can be viewed online.

Raystede are asking you to get involved. Whether that be fostering an animal, donating or simply going to look around there's plenty of ways to help.

Hero Josh signs off for a new start

JOSH Grove has become a popular figure running the Rodmill Post Office in Eastbourne for the past seven years.

By Peter Lindsey

He took over when he was just 22 – but now he's decided enough is enough and has handed over the business to new owners.

Josh said: "It is a really busy shop and Post Office, and the days are often long, opening at 6.45am weekday mornings.

Amazing customers

"But I have loved it and, hand on heart, I can genuinely say that I will miss my customers. They have been amazing."

Josh actually lives in Tonbridge, Kent, and he will now be taking a few months off before he decided on his next career move.

He became the youngest postmaster in the country when he took over at Rodmill back in 2018.

At the height of Lockdown one, Josh and partner Hannah were doing up to 120 deliveries a day. It kept the business going as footfall in the shop dropped off dramatically.

Local Hero accolade

In April 2021, they donated £1,500 of soft drinks and snacks to frontline NHS staff at the DGH.

Three months later, Josh was named a Local Hero by the Post Office for his community work and desire to go that extra mile.

It was part of the Post Office's We Are Stronger Together Awards and Josh won the Local Hero accolade for the South East.

EASTBOURNE Foodbank is calling on community to back housing campaign.

By Molly Graff

The campaign has been put in place in order to urge the government to address the crisis and act more quickly to raise Local Housing Allowance rates (LHA) to reduce the number of people requiring emergency accommodation. The campaign is being driven by 120 district and borough councils including Eastbourne Borough Council.

Juliet Mead, Eastbourne Foodbank Campaigns Manager, said: "We all know there is not enough social housing. This means people rent privately but LHA rates have not increased in line with the market rents.

As a result people, already low on incomes, are being forced to visit the foodbanks."

Eastbourne Foodbank is increasingly seeing families living in temporary accommodation and others unable to afford rent.

The government has agreed to increase LHA rates in April however more urgent help is needed.

Juliet said: "This is a national campaign but we really want to add not only our voice but a collective voice from Eastbourne to support it."

The Chapel in the valley

ENGAGEMENT season is definitely under way so if you are now searching for the perfect venue, look no further.

By Gail McKay

The Old Chapel is a beautifully refurbished and intimate chapel, with its private walled garden and an interior unchanged for over 200 years. It offers a well-equipped and versatile space, steeped in character and history.

It's an affordable and flexible venue that is ideal for wedding ceremonies, personal celebrations, corporate gatherings, or community events.

History

Formerly the Alfriston Congregational Church, the building is a living memorial to the early nonconformists of Alfriston.

A travelling preacher from Heathfield called George Gilbert, inspired the group of dissenters in 1801 to build themselves a proper church. The church which was known as the Independent Church of Christ at Alfriston was opened for worship on 2nd August 1801.

Thanks to the recent improvement works the Church is now experiencing a new phase in its history and is finding a variety of ways to serve the community whilst maintaining a link with the past.

Testimonial

"The price is very affordable, but the location seems like it should be worth a lot more. We got some amazing photos with a lot of different backgrounds. All and all, my husband and I were very happy with this venue and we are happy recommend it to all our friends for any event. All our expectations were met and then some."

Time capsule buried at Care Home

THE Mayor of Hailsham took part in a special ceremony held at Bowes House Care Home to bury a recently discovered time capsule to be opened again in 50 years' time.

By Peter Lindsey

A time capsule prepared by local residents 60 years ago was discovered at Bowes House during recent building work on site, containing handwritten letters and other information, dated 1964.

Staff at Bowes House invited pupils from Hawkes Farm Academy to get involved and run a competition for the pupils to add to this time capsule before it's buried again. The six winning pupils had their contribution added to the capsule, and residents and the local community were also invited to donate something to be included.

Mayor, Cllr Paul Holbrook, donated a copy of a set of recently written Town Council minutes.

At the ceremony, the time capsule was buried in a new location and everyone who donated items was given a 'golden ticket' entitling them to come back in 50 years' time, when the capsule will be dug up again.

"This is the perfect example of a cross-generational event, involving residents, families, school pupils and the local community in general," said Cllr Holbrook after the event. "For the school pupils in particular, this project was brilliant and allowed the children to choose items which they felt represent their life and local area.

"When recently discovered during building works at Bowes House, the time capsule provided an interesting glimpse into what life was like 60 years ago, and again will provide interest to people in 50 years' time when the capsule is unearthed again, into what life was like in Hailsham in 2024.

"It is absolutely fascinating to imagine what life may be like in Hailsham 50 years down the line. We hope that in 2074, when the capsule is re-opened, that Hailsham will be a thriving town and continue to be a community-driven place to live, work and visit."

Eastbourne to Amsterdam for St Wilfrid's

THE deputy station officer at Eastbourne Coastguard is riding from Eastbourne to Amsterdam to raise money and awareness for St Wilfrid's Hospice.

By Peter Lindsey

John Collins is taking part in the Hospices to Holland event from September 18th–22nd.

His target is £1,950 and this is why he is fundraising:

"I'm taking on this great challenge to support the wonderful work of St Wilfrid's. A number of people I know have benefitted from this amazing charity.

I only hope I can make Amsterdam before the knees give out! Thank you so much for your support!"

Starting in Eastbourne, the journey will pass along the south coast, across the channel, and then through the cycle-friendly cities and countryside in France, Belgium and Holland, finishing in Amsterdam.

The group will cycle past beaches, along waterways, and treelined canals dotted with windmills.

St Wilfrid's Hospice relies on the support of the community for 70% of its funding. By donating to St Wilfrid's Hospice, they can continue to help local people who need their services through the hospice building or out in the community.

Their care and support can continue to be provided to those facing a life-limiting diagnosis, and they can continue to support the wider family through their bereavement services.

Rolling Rides for Megan

SATURDAY February 24th is a very special day.

By Peter Lindsey

That's when bikers will meet in Hailsham – and all for a very special young girl.

Megan is 15 and has a rare condition called Pitt Hopkins.

She is non verbal, and has seizures and severe food intolerances which impact her life. She requires special care 24/7.

She's had a long term dream to go to Australia – and that's where the bikers come in.

Rolling Rides is a non-profit voluntary organisation, and it wants to make this dream come true for Megan.

So, on Saturday February 24, it is asking bikers to meet up at the long stay car park behind Hailsham Leisure Centre in Vicarage Field by midday.

They will all travel to The 1066 cafe on the A21 at Robertsbridge.

Here is Eastbourne's Mark Hopgood from Rolling Rides: "We are asking for as many of you as possible to come and take part in this ride out for Megan.

"Loud bikes, trikes, classic cars and more. Flares, Australian flags too – come on and get involved."

Dream holiday homes

And it is now offering Virtual Appointments for people interested in buying their dream holiday home.

The Family Parks Group's head office is at Wylands Farm on Powdermill Lane, Battle. It has a lakeside cafe, farm shop, fishing centre and business centre.

It also owns holiday parks in Kent, East Sussex, Dorset and Norfolk, plus Sharnfold which is reopening on March 29th.

The Group is preparing for a busy 2024 and is offering Virtual Appointments to the public with their sales advisors to see what is on offer.

Virtual appointments are made throughout the year but more so during the winter months when they acknowledge people may not want to turn out.

Ian Smith, joint Managing Director, said: "The Family Parks group is an expanding business, and we are really excited about the prospects for the coming year.

"It has been a tough time for many but mortgage rates are on the way down and hopefully the cost of living crisis will ease during 2024.

Vote for the BID

Since it was voted in by town centre businesses in 2019, Your Eastbourne BID has driven positive change for Eastbourne's town centre. This summer, we will be asking our BID Businesses to vote 'YES' for another five years of the BID in Eastbourne.

The initial remit for the BID was to tackle dressing the town, footfall and promotion, security and lobbying. However, over the course of the last four and a half years the BID has evolved these priorities to support our BID businesses through a global pandemic, cost of living crisis and incredibly challenging trading conditions.

The BID team and the incredibly supportive Board have worked tirelessly to address not just our initial priorities, but to bring exciting and fun events to the town centre, improve its appearance, drive footfall and increase security. Some of the BID's highlights so far include:

- Organising and running the first two years of the amazing town centre ice rink
- Some of the biggest and most successful events the town centre has ever seen, including the Jubilee Street Party, a range of specialist markets and the summer Pop-Up Park events
- Invested in Street Ambassadors to improve security and tackle anti-social behaviour and shop-lifting
- Introduced the best-ever Christmas light displays and interactive Christmas tree, whilst other towns were cancelling Christmas festivities
- Developed branding for each of the areas of the town centre, strengthening their identity as part of a wider marketing strategy

In June 2024, there will be a re-ballot held over the course of a month, where all of the BID businesses in the town centre can vote for another five-year term for Eastbourne. In the run-up to the vote, we will be holding a series of consultations in late February in four of the areas of the town centre. These are an opportunity for BID payers to come along, hear more about what the BID team has achieved for the town centre over the last four and a half years and to hear plans for the next five years.

The times and dates for the free consultations are:

- Little Chelsea – Tuesday 20th February, 6pm at Urban Ground
- Victoria Place – Thursday 22nd February, 10am at Qualisea
- Cornfields – Wednesday 28th February, 6pm at The Clock House
- Devonshire Quarter – Thursday 29th February, 6pm at Towner

You can register to attend at: <https://forms.office.com/e/K6AaDxFLpw> or by following the QR code.

If you'd like to chat to one of the BID team on a one-to-one basis, we will be running weekly drop-ins over the next few months. Drop-ins will be between 5pm and 6pm every Thursday evening at the BID office in Gildredge Road – no appointment necessary.

We need you to vote 'YES' at the re-ballot in order to keep delivering the ambitious plans for Eastbourne's wonderful town centre.

If you have any questions, please call the BID team now on 01323 671660.

One of The Chaseley Trust's carers wins Carer of the Month

Jackie on a fundraising triathlon.

JACKIE Turner goes above and beyond, provides exceptional care and also fundraises.

By Nic Gray

We are so proud of Jackie.

The Chaseley Trust support one another to achieve the same end goals.

At the beginning of January everyone in the trust was ecstatic to learn that one of our carers, Jackie Turner, won the Arquilla Cares, Carer of the Month for December.

Announcing across all of their social media, arquellaUK wrote:

“Drumroll please!

“We have a special announcement to make, and it’s all about our incredible Carer of the Month for December!

“This dedicated person has won a fantastic £50 Amazon Voucher, and we couldn’t be more thrilled!

“After carefully considering all of our amazing carers who were nominated, we are so excited to award this well-deserved prize to Jackie Turner.

“Jackie doesn’t just provide exceptional care; she goes above and beyond by fundraising for the residents at The Chaseley Trust in her spare time!

“Jackie’s passion and determination have truly touched our hearts and the lives of those she supports. We are so grateful for everything she does.

Jackie, thank you for making a profound difference and being an inspiration to us all.”

We are all extremely grateful for everything that Jackie does and are so thrilled for her that she has been recognised for all of her hard work and efforts.

Thank you Jackie from all of us here; including staff, residents and their families.

arquellaUK is a software company with pioneering technology for care homes, easing admin, enhancing quality of life and care outcomes.

The main source of Chaseley’s funding comes from residents’ fees, which cover the cost of their care package and contributes to the daily running costs of the home.

Various commissioning bodies fund the majority of resident care packages and they have just 5% surplus to fund all their additional costs, including the upkeep of their beautiful building, upgrading their equipment, and to provide the extra social and recreational activities and services that enhance the comfort and well-being of their residents, which is why they rely on donations and fundraising.

Chaseley is an independent charity-owned care home located in a stunning location on Eastbourne’s seafront. It is a 55-bed home that specialises in long-term nursing and respite care for people with complex disabilities, such as Acquired and Traumatic Brain Injury, stroke, spinal cord injury and degenerative neurological conditions such as Multiple Sclerosis, Motor Neurone and Parkinson’s disease.

Their multi-disciplinary approach to care and rehabilitation includes physiotherapy, occupational therapy and recreational activities, ensuring their person-centred approach is focused on individuals regaining as much independence as possible, so that their psychological well-being and emotional balance are maintained. In addition to this their facilities included an on-site, fully accessible gym specifically designed for people who are disabled and living in the community.

London Philharmonic brings pictures at an exhibition to Eastbourne on Sunday 11th February at 3pm

As Eastbourne continues to celebrate hosting the Turner Prize, the world-famous orchestra brings Mussorgsky's masterpiece to the Congress Theatre for a timely concert.

It might have been the vodka talking, but when Modest Mussorgsky went to an art exhibition his imagination went into overdrive. Talking skulls, dancing chickens, ancient castles and a hut with hen's legs: Pictures at an Exhibition is a riot of colour. Going to an art gallery was never meant to be this much fun, but for guest conductor Kahchun Wong it's merely the climax of a whole concert powered by the imagination. Because when violinist Francesca Deگو scales the Alpine peaks of Brahms's radiant Violin Concerto, every note speaks straight to the heart.

'This Singapore-born ball of energy and charm is a name to watch.' – The Observer Classical Music, Music Critic Fiona Maddocks on Kahchun Wong.

The Street Café

WHEN you are thinking about places to eat, a hospice may not be the first place that comes to mind.

By Madeleine Green, St Wilfrid's Hospice

But The Street Café at St Wilfrid's Hospice on Broadwater Way in Eastbourne is a place to put your preconceptions to one side and enjoy a cuppa and a cake in beautiful surroundings.

Bright and spacious

Set in the bright, spacious, Street area of the hospice, The Street Café is open to the public daily from 8:30am to 4pm. Perhaps best known for their scrumptious cheese scones, the Café serves a range of cakes and pastries, along with sandwiches and a salad bar. There is also a hot meal and a soup on offer each day. From traditional roast dinners to lasagne, hot pots and curries, every day there is a new delight to try.

Everything is made on site by the dedicated catering team who also prepare all the meals for patients staying in the hospice. What's more, profits from The Street Café contribute to supporting St Wilfrid's hospice's patients and their families.

A safe space for everyone

But the café is about more than just food; it's a meeting space for the community and a safe space for everyone. Hampden Park Shed runs a craft group – open to everyone – there on the first Monday of each month. There are often local musical groups performing. And several community groups use it as their meet up point. Visitors are also welcome to use the Retreat – a quiet space for reflection. Or to spend time remembering loved ones by the Memory Tree – a beautiful sculpture at the heart of The Street adorned with dedications to people who have died.

A warm welcome

You'll always find a warm welcome at The Street Café, so be sure to pop in next time you are nearby.

The Street Café is open from 8:30am – 4pm seven days a week. The hot dish and soup are served between midday and 2pm and change daily, with a vegetarian option available. Dogs are welcome in the seating area.

Walk more

WAS 'Walk More' one of your New Year's Resolutions? How's it going?

By Gill Mattock, Polegate Ramblers

Just in case you need that extra bit of motivation this month's article is focussing on Polegate Ramblers' Long Walk group.

This group meets every Thursday at Polegate rec and car shares to the walk starting point (between 4 and 20 miles away). The long walks are usually about 10 miles and are led by experienced members of the group who have planned and reccied the route in advance and lead us on the day. The group can vary in size but is usually between 15 and 25. I asked some of them why they joined and why they keep coming – here's what they said.

Long standing members particularly liked the flexibility and the mix 'n match option – there is no obligation to turn up every week and if you fancy a shorter walk you go with the 5 mile group instead. They also liked going to places they wouldn't normally go – recent walks have taken us as far afield as Battle, Newhaven and Uckfield. But why the 10 mile group? Apparently they liked the challenge of a long walk and from the health point of view, there was agreement that it was important to keep active as long as you could. The social aspect of the weekly walks was also highly valued with members emphasising that it was great to chat to different people as they walked, often picking up conversations from previous weeks and how they had made new friends and learned new things. It was also pointed out how useful it was if you had a non walking partner.

Sarah, our latest recruit, told me that the thought of turning up that first time was very daunting but that taking the plunge was the best thing she had done. She very much appreciated how everyone had gone out of their way to welcome her and make her feel part of the group. Her message to others thinking of joining was definitely, "Just do it and you won't regret it".

Gallery@42 hosts Alex Sádlo

HAILED as a world master in enamelling and as a pioneer in the modern art movement, Alexander Sádlo was a prolific and gifted artist whose upcoming exhibition in Eastbourne is expected to foster a wider enjoyment and appreciation of his paintings.

By Molly Graff

Gallery@42 is honouring his memory by celebrating one of Alex's long-term practices, depicting the forms created by moving figures.

Modest

Despite dedicating his life to his art, about a third of his work never left his studio; some of these will be featured in this exhibition. His wife Gaynor described Alex as a modest man who never went to seek fame for his art. Alex was passionate and dedicated, always exploring new ideas for his work.

Visual tension

A special feature of Alex's work shows the range of different mediums he worked with. He created contemporary jewellery, collages using ribbons, stamps, newspapers and stereoscopic cards. Alex also enjoyed using fluorescent oil paints which allowed him to create complementary colours with visual tension and movement. The techniques that he used started at the very beginning of his career, in the early 1950's.

Vitreous enamel

In 1957 Alex became attracted to the brilliance and permanence of vitreous (glass) enamel on copper and he went on to win international prizes in this medium, in Japan and France. He also learnt to cut and carve Australian opals, making them into his jewellery. He loved carving pebbles and shells for fun and he made many ceramics, often in partnership with Gaynor.

Alex took time, care and passion when working on his art and used the best source of materials he could get his hands on.

Exhibition

Some of the large paintings you will see in the upcoming exhibition include an array of geometric shapes, using an illuminating colour palette to create the sense of movement. The show will reveal how these ideas of depicting movement developed over 50 years.

Also set to feature in the show are ceramics created by Gaynor from Alex's 100 or so designs for vessels, discovered during Gaynor's cataloguing of Alex's 1000+ drawings. Gaynor creates these vessels at Eastbourne Studio Pottery, partly as a therapeutic process for coping with loss.

All are welcome!

The exhibition will run from:
3rd – 18th February 2024
12pm – 6pm

Design meets art

FORMER designer from London, Dave Nokku has settled in Eastbourne to fulfil his passion for art and all things graphic design.

By Molly Graff

With an upcoming exhibition at Gallery@42, Dave has been preparing his artwork.

Experienced

Now a part time Salsa and Bachata dance teacher, Nokku has worked in various sectors of the design industry for many years ranging from visualization, branding, storyboarding and art direction. And after looking after his family for the last 15 years, Nokku decided it was time to do something for himself and began working on his art when he moved to Eastbourne.

Range of collections

By taking inspiration of his surroundings at the Harbour, Nokku has a series of collections – Storybook, Face, Air and Wheels and Bike.

“I didn’t know if I could create art, designing is very different. When I was walking around the harbour I took a shot that almost looked like a runway and I thought it would be great if I could recreate that.”

Detail

By using vectored images, Nokku has the ability to make his work highly detailed. Alongside the prints of his work there are also animations set to music enabling the viewer to go deeper into the details of his art.

All of Nokku’s art includes a range of famous and well-known references for example The Beatles, Thunderbirds and Top Gun. Visit his website at nokkuart.com to see if you can spot any.

The Exhibition will be running from 22nd February to the 3rd March 12pm – 6pm

Artists in residence

EASTBOURNE ALIVE town-wide partnership project celebrating the once-in-a-lifetime opportunity that the Turner Prize 2023 offers.

By Gail McKay

The aim is to reanimate underused spaces through public art and collaborative events, including a series of major artworks installed across Eastbourne which will explore the notion of a modern-day monument.

Renee Vaughan Sutherland and Florence Wright will take up residency at Motcombe Pool Caretaker's House as part of the wraparound programme. The project focuses on community engagement, youth voice, wellbeing and creativity in a space that is much-loved by the locals and will highly benefit of the animation of currently disused rooms.

The project will kick off with a period of research and development, consisting of working in the space, utilising the house as a site to generate work and draw inspiration.

During this period, the artists will begin direct outreach and develop workshops and discussions with the community. Their findings and work will be presented as an exhibition from 20th February until 25th February 2024, at Motcombe Pool Caretaker's House.

Florence Wright will embark on a period of research and experimentation; drawing upon the house itself as the subject, with specific attention to objects, memories & histories from within. Wright is inviting members of the public into the space to share their memories in facilitated creative workshops. The work will be informed by the nature of the research as it progresses, developing from conversation into writing, collage, and painting.

20th Jan – 25th Feb 2024

FEATURED ARTIST Christina Frewing

I graduated from Ravensbourne in 1978, that summer I moved into my first pottery studio. It was a lean-to building backing onto an equally old Victorian wooden framed greenhouse. One thousand sq feet which included an old pig sty with a concrete floor...this became the kiln room. And this is where my passion for clay found its independence.

Fast forward 46yrs. I am still passionate about clay, I use mostly porcelain now which is the language of creativity that I choose to use. It's a demanding and challenging medium, it's also beautiful, tactile and colours are illuminated on the pure white body. I have the utmost respect for it.

I make individual and limited edition pieces which I find both challenging and rewarding. I am enjoying questioning what I have learnt as a student and what I practiced as a maker. I enjoy challenging the processes of making each piece in relation to its function and how to highlight the quality of porcelain in new ways. I delight in creating texture and creating shadows. I enjoy the challenge of making unique pieces which have an interesting texture that makes the user more mindful of the nuances of everyday items and their purpose. My aim is to share this beautiful connection with porcelain. Ideas evolve quickly, which tests my skills and ability and in turn allows me to be more expressive.

Visitors are welcome to my studio by appointment where I am happy to talk about my methods.

‘worlds within...’

ARTISTS Paul Bartholomew, Paul Crocker and Steve Johnston
 have been building up and sharing a printmaking studio for a number of years now.

Although their work is radically different from each other, this dialogue has allowed them to push their explorations of print; including etching, embossing, block type, collagraphs, relief, monotype and digital print... examples of all will be available to view at their show ‘worlds within...’ at the Emma Mason Gallery which opens to the public on Saturday 24th February.

By Gail McKay

Paul Bartholomew comes from a rigorous art historical painterly and abstract tradition where concerns of colour, mass and form are to the fore.

Paul Crocker’s background has been in the graphic arts, although his current explorations reverberate around notions of light and surface, and an interest in how geometry supports structure and meaning.

Steve Johnston’s work is a “constant struggle” to glean through secular, religious and esoteric narratives how stories through their universality of image have at heart a revealed truth.

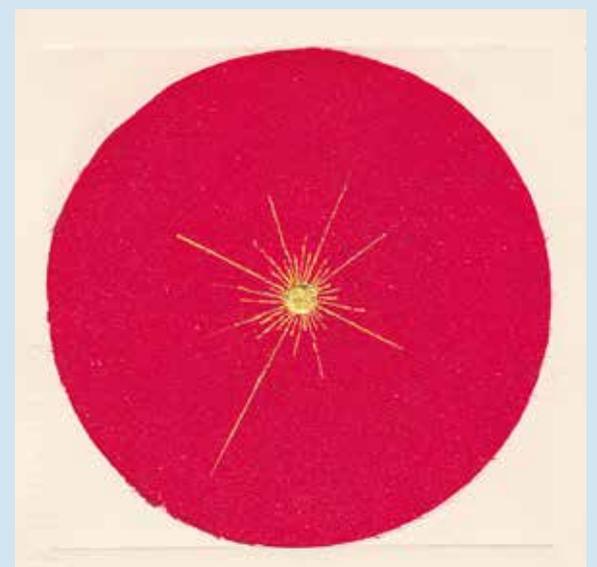

The artists will be in attendance and will be available to talk to throughout the show.

Showing:
24th Feb – 3rd Mar 2024
Open:
Thursday - Sunday
10:00 – 16:00

Green and pleasant

IT'S February already! With any luck we should begin to see the signs of the approaching spring, with bulbs appearing and some wildlife waking up as light levels and temperatures steadily begin to increase. If it's too cold and damp, well maybe there's plenty to do indoors this month too, to prepare for the season ahead. Outdoors, as the garden comes to life again, it's time to prune shrubs and climbers, such as Wisteria as well as evergreen hedges. February feels like a turning point in the garden and the days are getting longer at last. This month's garden jobs are mostly about getting things ready for the spring. But there are also some early sowing and growing tasks to do, if you want to get a head start.

By Geoff Stonebanks

For those of us that like to visit gardens through the year then, thankfully, the National Garden Scheme has gardens opening this month with lots of beautiful snowdrops to show off. Do please note that 5 Whitemans Close in Cuckfield, is advertised to open in the Sussex booklet, but sadly, it has had to cancel all its 2024 openings for medical reasons. There are lots of other gardens that are open too, providing great walks with your four-legged friends.

The garden at Driftwood

A plant that looks really spectacular in my garden through the winter is miscanthus. They are really reliable grasses that provide interest over a long period. Mine produce fountains of foliage in early summer and bear plumes of white or pink flowers in late summer, then as shown, in the depths of winter these bleach into shades of a pretty biscuity brown. I have a couple of clumps in the beach garden at the front of the house and several in the back garden too.

Flowering profusely in the back porch are several of my aeoniums, they are all on rather large plants so once flowered, I will probably cut the stem back and wait for new growth of the summer.

It all seems to be the yellows that are drawing attention to themselves at the moment. The beautiful flowers on the hellebore argutifolius are just coming into their own too. I have two rather large patches of them in the beach garden close to the old rowing boat! Certainly, not a plant you'd necessarily expect to see growing in an exposed beach garden, but that said they have been there over 10 years now and look magnificent through the winter months.

I've recently spent some time tidying up the ferns growing behind the corten steel wall. The recent winds had badly damaged them and they had become very brown. It's quite nice to see the steel wall again from the house, but it won't be long before the new fronds start to appear again.

Snowdrop openings with the National Garden Scheme

A regular favourite snowdrop garden in Sussex is Pembury House in Clayton, near Ditchling. This year it has seven open days in February, the 8th, 9th, 15th, 16th, 22nd, 23rd and 29th. Its opening times are 10:30am – 3:30pm on each of those dates BUT pre-booking is essential, visit www.ngs.org.uk for more information & booking details. Timed slots will be available between 10:30am & 2pm with home-made teas included in the price of £11 with children free. Depending on the vagaries of the season the snowdrops will be at their best. It is a country garden, tidy but not manicured with new work always going on. Winding paths give a choice of walks through three acres of garden, which is in and enjoys views of the South Downs

National Park. Please wear suitable footwear, macs and winter woollies advised. There will be plants for sale and owners would ideally prefer cash.

Other Sussex snowdrop gardens can be found at The Old Vicarage in Washington on four dates, the 8th, 15th, 22nd and 29th, which opens 10am to 5pm each day but with pre-booking essential.

The Manor of Dean in Tillington near Petworth opens on the 18th of the month between 2 and 4pm and Highdown Gardens in Goring by Sea on the 15th of the month will full details at www.ngs.org.uk

Wildlife in Winter

Winter can be a difficult time for wildlife. When the temperatures finally plummet and food becomes difficult to find, insect-eating birds turn to alternative foods, some species travel far and wide, and foraging behaviour adapts, but we can lend a helping hand by providing a welcome source of extra food for birds to turn to in leaner times. The RSPB says, when buying bird food, try to get a good mix of peanuts, seeds and live food like mealworms and waxworms. Fruit, especially bruised apples and pears, will be popular with thrushes and Blackbirds. Household scraps like pastry, cooked rice and breadcrumbs should only be offered in small amounts occasionally.
